

Orca: Also called the killer whale, the orca is a fixture in British Columbia's Pacific waters. Featured in native art and the destination of the ever expanding eco-tourism visitors, the orca is a beautiful creature and fierce predator. You can see these huge whales at Stanley Park or off British Columbia's coast.

