Terry Fox: A hero whose determination and generosity inspires many the world over. In 1980, Terry began a cross-country awareness run having lost one leg to cancer. Terry was forced to abandon his effort after covering 5,373 km. Cancer took his life in June 1981 at the age of 22.