

Halifax Explosion: In 1904 two ships collided in Halifax harbour causing the largest explosion in Canadian history. Around 2000 people were killed in the tragedy, and 20% of the city was leveled. Today this monument commemorates this great loss of life.

